LINDSAY'S LINES

What an amazing Rotary program Youth Exchange (YEP) is. Last week we heard our “rebounder” Sasha give us a brief insight into her experience in Switzerland last year and on Sunday night I was privileged to attend the graduation night of all the other District 9600 exchange students. The stories that Sasha and the other “rebounders” told were similar in the differences they experienced. All told of the diversity of contacts they developed – both with the locals of their host country but also the cross cultures the various other YEP students provided. Patrick went to Sweden but also met over 120 YEP students (there are around 8,000 world-wide each year)! Brooke’s best friend last year in Germany was a YEP student from South Africa.

Samuel’s “elephant moment” in France was realising that things like the local bakery, let alone the building it was housed in, were older than our young nation yet had become “normal”. Patrick’s was sitting in a train subway talking to a guy putting up billboards over the tracks that “was scary (just like YEP) but life is like that”! They learned that each nation has different cultures. For example, as our own “outbounder” Sally will find out in France, the rules for greeting vary to which cheek you kiss, how many, and if at all (and getting it wrong is very awkward)! Brooke met an elder German gent who, born in the Nazi era, taught her you can learn to change your thinking from the way you were brought up. Rebecca joined the tea ceremony club at her Japanese school but also learned that in her town, even if you forget your lunch, don’t forget your umbrella. Then Maddie’s 1st German host dad, who had developed as a mentor for her, died suddenly later in the year of a stroke.

It has been suggested that “if every student went on YEP, we would have no war”! RC of Kippa-Ring has been doing YEP for 23 years! So take advantage of this unique program. Ask Emilie out for coffee to meet your family and learn why the Danes are deemed the happiest nation!

Can you help?

Do you have a spare washing machine?

Margot and Duncan have been helping Athili Kholi (former Peace Scholar in Marius' year) with some furniture. Athili and his family have recently moved into a rental in Camp Hill. They have a 6 year old daughter and a baby due in May. They are applying to extend their visas and seek work in Brisbane.

A washing machine would be warmly welcomed. If you have something available please see Margot.
