Reach Within to Embrace Humanity

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT – Bill's Blurp...

After a series of very busy meetings the AGM was a welcome change of pace. Actually most AGM's have no pace at all; they are often dry old affairs. However I don't particularly subscribe to that view when it comes to this event in our Club. Sure we have our normal bit of business to conduct such as the acceptance and approval of the annual accounts. But in a well run Club (and I believe we are) this is not much more than a formality.

What gives our AGM special significance is the introduction and election of the leadership team for the next Rotary year; and to some extent the year beyond that. That makes the AGM a very important event. We get a look at, and appreciation of, the future of our Club.

The general consensus would be that we can look to the future with considerable confidence. I tend to subscribe to the theory that the best way to form a view about what a person might do in the future is look at what they've done in the past. If they have a history of achievement it is a fair bet that history will be repeated.

Angela, as our next President, comes into the role with a career to be proud of; highlights feature in leadership roles. Match that up with her long standing Rotary membership and broad commitment to community involvement and service and we have a wonderful choice as President for 2012/13. And I haven't even mentioned what a delightful person she is to work with and be around.

We can already see what sort of role Angela will play with the team she has assembled to lead our Club next year. A good president will have a good team; it is a sort of mutual attraction. We have both in place for 2012/13.

Now onto something else; the Christmas party as Sassafras was most enjoyable. Thank you Wendy for organising it; if you didn't have a good time you were not there.

I am looking forward to our Xmas meeting this week. I will have our granddaughter with me and that will be special. I expect there will be much fun and good cheer. A big thank you in advance to the Foundation Committee for organising the meeting.
