WENDY'S WISDOM

Wow! What a terrific start to the year. At Changeover Dinner a few things really jumped out. Russell did a great job as emcee. He kept us entertained, kept us to time and ensured everyone was involved. Jennifer provided a highlight with the Rotary International toast. Angela summarized her year in a way that made us recall all that was achieved – and she managed it in a way that replicated her professional style – succinct and with dignity. Thanks to all who came along – it will be interesting to hear how John Arvier enjoys his golf and Jan enjoys the car racing at Queensland Raceway. I know Tamsin's going to enjoy the laps in the V8....she told me so all the way home.

Did you know that last week was Drug Awareness Week. Research has shown that one in five young Australians over the age of 14 uses alcohol at least monthly, and during those times of inhibition many slip further to try illicit drugs. There's nothing wrong with having a drink but maybe we need to give thought to what we do and say in front of teens whose brains aren't ready to deal with the effects. See you on Thursday. Wendy

PS: Scanned through the dictionary (how old am I) to find a clever name for this column like Angela's Angles. You'd be surprised to see the variety of words that start with W. I'm playing it safe and settling for Wendy's Wisdom – though you mightn't find much of that in the columns. The least said about the title the better.

Who Do You Think This Could Be? Do you know who holds both an electric and a diesel train driving licence?
